Who are the Engineering Ambassadors?

The College of Engineering Ambassadors are an enthusiastic, knowledgeable and high-energy team of students who actively represent the College in a visible public relations role. Ambassadors represent the College, its programs, and its students to industry representatives, alumni, parents, and prospective students on an individual and college-wide basis. In addition, Ambassadors participate in large-scale college events such as Parents' Appreciation Day, Homecoming, the College of Engineering Awards Banquet, and Open House.

During these unprecedented times, Engineering Ambassadors has converted to a fully online approach with hopes of converting back to in-person in the near future. We are currently giving tours and information sessions via Zoom.

Students chosen to participate as Ambassadors will enjoy opportunities to enhance their leadership, interpersonal and public speaking skills while gaining invaluable knowledge about the University and College through close working relationships with the Dean, Department Chairs, faculty and staff.

Top 10 Best Songs to Cry to:

1. Palace - Sam Smith
2. Too Good at Goodbyes - Sam Smith
3. What Hurts the Most - Rascal Flatts
4. Happier - Ed Sheeran
5. Pray - Sam Smith
6. 1-800-273-8255 - Logic
7. Talking to the Moon - Bruno Mars
8. Supermarket Flowers - Ed Sheeran
9. Nothing Left For You - Sam Smith
10. all the kids are depressed - Jeremy Zucker

As you can see, there is a lot of Sam Smith on this list. That is because not only does Sam Smith have the voice of an absolute ANGEL, he also makes very sad songs, perfect when in need of a good cry. I actually limited myself from putting more Sam Smith on this list. "Palace" is my number one because it is easily the best song to cry to. It is beautiful and heartbreaking all at once.
