Reception to Follow

We are delighted to extend an invitation to you to participate in our upcoming Dean's Club for Innovation panel discussion on the topic of Artificial Intelligence (AI). This enlightening event, moderated by Dr. Chris Lupo, Director of the Noyce School of Applied Computing, promises to delve into the cutting-edge advancements and profound implications of AI technology.

As valued partners in our mission to foster innovation and excellence, your insights and expertise will greatly enrich our dialogue on this pivotal subject. This exclusive opportunity offers a platform for industry leaders like yourselves to share perspectives, engage in thought-provoking discussions, and explore collaborative opportunities within the realm of AI. Your participation in this event not only strengthens our bond as collaborators but also contributes to the advancement of knowledge and the development of future initiatives. We sincerely hope you will join us for what promises to be a stimulating and impactful discussion. Please RSVP by MARCH 22 to confirm your attendance and indicate any specific topics or questions you would like to address during the panel. Thank you for your continued support and partnership.

Warm regards,
